SALISBURY'S SALT LAKE LINE:

AN ENGAGEMENT of the old fashioned sort came off vesterday. A couple of youths who thought there was a grievance, went at it between the hospital and Slaughter house Ravine. Time was Slaughter house Ravine. Time was called and the boys went at it, but after a round or two, which were not in consonance with the rules of the P. R., they concluded they were making fools of themselves and let up. We agreed so heartily in the termination of the affair, that we had like to have had a head put on us, when we also immediately and unconditionally dried up. A still tongue wakes a wise head.

Mr. Evans, an engineer, lately employed as such in one of the mills at Bullionville, has been very unfortunate and suffered much lately. While at and suffered much lately. While at work cutting a key seat a piece of iron entered his eye, injuring ft so that he is now anable to distinguish objects a short distance, the other also being affected. Mr. Evans is in a deplorable condition, having a wife and six children at Placersitle. Col. depending muon him for surville, Cal., depending upon him for sup-port, and we would recommend that our benevolent citizens furnish him with the means to leave for San Francisco, where he would receive medical attendance.

The ethics of the frequenters of lodging houses seem peculiar, every lodger appears bound to make as much noise as possible when he enters, and if he can by loud talk and banging doors wake all the rest, then he retreats peacefully to his couch, and believes he has ful-filled his mission. Some folks have a curious notion of what is pleasant for their neighbors.

good things can attend without any fear that they will be intruding on some-body else's seat. A cordial and sincere welcome will be extended to all.

Four Trials,-After a protructed judicial investigation, George Lambert has been found guilty of grand larceny. These proceedings have extended over a lengthened period of time, and we are glad a termination has been reached, no matter which way it turned. The pro-credings have already cost the county an immense sum of money.

YESTERDAY we gushed about the weather; but to-day our perennial spring of gush is excited about the mines. No new developments have been positively stated, but there seems a greater air of firmness and security among our specu-lators than we have noticed for some

A TANK .- A friend of ours has suggested that if a tank were erected near the spring on Lacour street, beyond the Court House that a great saving would be effected for the folks in that vicinity in the supply of water, and the road be-low would not be quite so impassable as it is now.

FOR SWEET CHARITY'S SAKE.-The attention of the public is called to the appeal of Mr. Evans, who is certainly deposed to help him to will be well applied.

SIDEWALES. - During this muddy weather the sidewalks between Judge Perley's old office and the Court-house have been a real blessing. Litigants, jurors and others having business at the latter establishment will bear us out.

THE BON BON PARTY. - All those who attended Professor Bach's soirce on Wednesday evening express themselves as being highly pleased with the arrange-ments made for their entertainment.

BULLION SHIPMENT. -- The bullion shipped by Wells, Fargo & Co. yesterday amounted to $14,226.61.

A LETTER from Mazatlan, dated March 15, announces that about half the children of that place had died of small-pox, and the whole community was in mourning. Similarly frightful reports have been received from other cities in the interior.

Carrie along Walker river are dying by the score every day. More have died since the cessation of the heavy frosts than before. The fact is that they have got to be so poor that they are unable to hint what little feed there is to be found.

MATT. H. FUNKTON, Clerk of the City Council, committed snielde last night, by shooting himself through the head with a pistol. The deceased had been a victim for a long time past of inflamatory theumatism—[Revielle 3d.

A LETTER from Cape Coast says that among the treasure found in the King's residence were thousands of strange, antique and curious articles, many of which would fetch very high prices if sold at auction. In one room was the King's breakfast and dinner service of silver, covered over with carpet; also a large teakettle and a handsome epergne, both silver; also plates, knives, forks and various curious articles of silverware. In a trunk in his bedchamber were seven marks of gold, several nuggets, a necklace and other valuables.

The Kings of Jarabin and Adonsi, two powerful tribes, have declared themselves anxious to live at peace with Britain.

The King of Marnhan, who has been fighting on the side of the Ashantee at Amogul, has died from the wounds he received in battle.

The Ashantee Kingdom, which was dependent on six tributary Kings, has collapsed.

Several serious faults are charged against General Wolseley in conducting collapsed.

Several serious faults are charged against General Wolseley in conducting the campaign. It is claimed that he was too lenient in his demands on the King of Ashantee. He did not even visit Bontannah, the most important city of all, nor the King's country residence, although not over a mile from Commassie. He is also censured on other grounds. The Ashantee power is crushed, never-theless.

Whateven else may be said about the WHATEVER else may be said about the late session of the Legislature, it has certainly done well in the way of cutting down its contingent expenses. The Senate's expenses have been $24,036 less than those of the Senate of the nineteenth session, and the Assembly was run for $25,485 less than its predecessor. It is estimated that the expenses of the It is estimated that the expenses of the Assembly would have been $10,000 less than they were but for the number of investigations, causing outlay for cierk-hire, printing bills, etc. The example of economy thus set in the immediate expenses of the Legislature should not be lost during future sessions.

UNCLE SAM has distributed a few thousand dollars in currency among the sol-diers at Camp Douglas during the last day or two. A number of the boys were giving their earnings a still wider circuation about town yesterday, and some of the liberal inclined had about as much money last evening as they had before the Paymaster came along. Pay day makes a rich harvest for some of the city establishments.—[S. L. Herald.

The last named tendency is not confined to Salt Lake, nor yet to Uncle Sam's soldiers.

EPISCOFAL CHURCH.—We are informed that hereafter the sittings in this church will be free. All who on Sundays or other holy days feel desirous of returning thanks to the Great Giver of all good things can attend without any fear that they will be intruding on somebody else's seat. A cordial and sincere body else's seat. A cordial and sincere to be open about the first of May. Sylvester, of Barnard's Express, arrived in three and a half days from Buck's Bar, on the ice, with $7,000 in dust.

> PAYING OFF .- The Crown Point Mining Company yesterday paid their work-men $50,000; the Imperial paid $16,000; Yellow Jacket, $13,000; Sierra Nevada, $15,000. The Ophir, Consolidated Vir-ginia, California, Gould and Curry, Hale and Norcross, Chollar-Potosi, Bullion, Baltimore Consolidated, and, in fact, most of the mines along the Comptock most of the mines along the Comstock, have paid off their men or will do so in a day or two. The Belcher Company will pay to-day; their pay-roll foots up $88,000.—[Vir. Enterprise, 4th.

> THE farming prospects of the valley round about never promised better— plenty of water for irrigation and a great deal of new land being cleared and brok-en makes our agricultural interest loom up more than ever; yet there are several up more than ever; yet there are several thousand acres in our valley that will produce equal to any under cultivation with proper tilling, and which, at no distant day will be made to "blossom as a rose" if Von Schmidt does not succeed in stealing the Truckee river.—[Reno State Journal.

Ir is reported that an immensely rich serving of any assistance that may be rendered him. He has a large family dependent upon him for livelihood, and assays are fabulous, exceeding in one instance $20,000.—[Humboldt Register.

A Boston letter to the Philadelphia Press says: "Magnetized individuals may crawl into the Butler collar, but when you see Massachusetts wriggle in I will send you a weasel so sound asleep that he was a series of the series of that he snores, and a white blackbird as large as the American eagle."

THE Marysville Appeal is informed that many of the grain fields back of Nicolaus have been drowned out, and that the crops there will prove a total
